

Legrand North American Manufacturing Facilities

The LEED Rating System awards a higher value to products when they are manufactured, produced or extracted from the local area.

The map shows the locations of Legrand's North America manufacturing facilities for assistance in assessing project site and eligibility to achieve relevant Material & Resource credits.

Professional Resources

Legrand's LEED professionals are available to offer additional support and services. For specific product or project support, please contact your nearest sales representative. If there is not a sales representative near you, please contact one of Legrand's other LEED professionals with "National" responsibility and they will be able to assist you.
